Introduction to Subject-based Banding : What?

Subject-based banding (SBB) for Primary level was introduced as a refinement to the streaming process, to help a child realise his potential, based on his strengths and needs.

Under SBB, at the end of P4, the school will recommend a subject combination for P5, taking into account the student's P4 results.

Students can pursue subjects (English, Maths, Science, Mother Tongue) at either the Standard or Foundation level from Primary 5, and benefit from the learning experiences of the subject(s) at the given level.

Introduction to Subject-based Banding : How?

If the student (at P4 level)	The school may recommend
Does well in 4 subjects, and in particular for Mother Tongue (Chinese, Malay, Tamil)	4 standard subjects + Higher Mother Tongue
Passes 3 or 4 subjects	4 standard subjects
Passes 2 or fewer subjects	2 standard subjects + 2 foundation subjects OR 4 foundation subjects

The school will consider the child's results holistically to recommend a suitable subject combination, and parents are given the option to agree or counter-propose.

At the end of P5, adjustments may be made to the level of subjects being offered to allow the student a good footing in P6.

Revised PSLE Scoring System

The PSLE scoring changes from 2021 aim to:

- Reduce fine differentiation at a young age
- Recognise students' level of achievement, regardless of how their peers have done.

Students' achievement level (AL) for each subject will reflect their level of achievement, rather than how they have performed relative to their peers.

How does SBB affect Secondary education?

Progression to secondary level depends on the student's PSLE score (total achievement level). The different expectations of standard and foundation subjects will be taken into account when the PSLE score is calculated.

More details of the new secondary school system (beginning in 2024 Sec 1) will be made known in due course.

Offering subjects at the foundation level is not a disadvantage to the student.

It enables him/her to focus on building up strong fundamentals in these subjects and better prepares him/her for progression to secondary school.
